

HOGUE INC ANNOUNCES THEIR AR-15/M16 RUBBER OVERMOLDED® FIXED BUTTSTOCK

Henderson, NV – Hogue Incorporated, America's premier manufacturer of handgun grips, has added an AR fixed buttstock to their line of tactical rifle components. "We already offer a best-selling collapsible buttstock packed with high-end features so it made perfect sense to reinterpret it for a fixed alternative," said Hogue co-owner and master toolmaker Jim Bruhns.

The Hogue fixed buttstock is constructed with a hybrid reinforced polymer and OverMolded rubber design. Using their patented OverMolded technology, Hogue has created a beard-safe cheek rest that is comfortable to the touch. The stock's butt pad utilizes this unique hybrid build as well. It cushions the shoulder from the rigors of recoil during firing while its polymer cap provides snag-free shouldering when the rifle is brought to firing position. The reinforced polymer frame includes multiple swivel sleeve and sling mounting positions for a varied choice of carry options.

The fixed buttstock fits A2 sized buffer tubes and replaces the existing stock in seconds. Their selection utilizes all of the familiar Hogue rubber colors: black, flat dark earth, OD green, purple, aqua, pink, red lava and Ghillie® green.

Made in the USA, the Hogue fixed buttstock's MSRP is $49.95 for black and $59.95 for colors. Hogue supports local dealers and encourages customers to purchase their buttstocks locally.
