OVERMOLDED® RUBBER GRIP FOR AK-47 RIFLES

[WITHOUT FINGER GROOVES]

Hogue Inc. Brings New Look to their Popular AK-47 OverMolded Grip

Introducing a revamped grip option for AK enthusiasts.

Henderson, NV – Hogue Inc., renowned for crafting top-tier firearm accessories, is excited to now offer their OverMolded® Rubber Grip for AK-47 and AK-74 style rifles in a new aesthetic and without finger grooves.

In line with Hogue's commitment to customer satisfaction, the new design caters to users who prefer a streamlined, fingerless grip with an ambidextrous profile for both right and left-handed shooters. Constructed from durable, thermoplastic elastomer, the grip is textured with Hogue's renowned Cobblestone™ pattern, a hallmark for superior non-slip performance.

This precision-engineered product boasts resilience, remaining impervious to traditional firearm oils and solvents, and complies with US ATF 922(r) regulations. The grip also features a hollow construction—complete with a bottom door with snap closure—to serve as an integrated storage compartment.

Be part of the revolution in firearm accessories and experience the Hogue advantage. Hogue tactical products are manufactured in the USA in family-owned and operated facilities. To learn more, please call Hogue directly at (1-800) 438-4747 or visit www.hogueinc.com.
