Hogue Inc. Releases New Rubber Grip Extension Base Pads for GLOCK

GLOCK enthusiasts can further enhance their grip as Hogue delivers OverMolded® rubber technology for GLOCK 42, GLOCK 43, and GLOCK 26

Henderson, NV – Hogue Inc., an industry leading manufacturer of innovative firearm accessories, is proud to announce the release of new OverMolded Rubber Grip Extension Base Pads. These base pads are specifically designed with the ergonomics of Hogue's HandALL® Beavertail™ grip sleeve, for several GLOCK platforms, to create a seamless flow from grip to magazine.

These precision-fit bases extend below the magazine providing full hand grip and better control, while also protecting the magazine during quick reload ground drops.

Compatible with 6-Round magazines for the GLOCK 42 and 43, 10-Round magazines for the GLOCK 26, and to fit 10 & 15-Round magazines for the GLOCK 19 into a GLOCK 26, Hogue's OverMolded mag bases are crafted from high-quality, durable thermoplastic elastomer to deliver years of lasting service. Each grip is textured with Hogue's renowned Cobblestone™ pattern for superior grip comfort and recoil absorption, and are available in both Black and Flat Dark Earth colorways.

Every Hogue product is manufactured in family-owned and operated facilities under the direct supervision of the Hogue family. To learn more about our extended magazine bases or to explore our full GLOCK grip line, please call Hogue directly at (1-800) 438-4747 or visit www.hogueinc.com.
